

A bronze statue of a man in a toga, likely representing a Roman figure, stands on a stone pedestal in the foreground. He is pointing his right arm towards the ruins of the Arch of Augustus in Rome. The arch is a large stone structure with multiple arches, some of which are partially ruined. In the background, modern cars are visible on a street, indicating the site's location in a modern city. The scene is set in a sunny, outdoor environment with shadows cast on the ground.
